IDY 2026: Strengthening Health, Resilience, Well-Being

An Exclusive Interview with Ayush Minister Shri Prataprao Jadhav

As the world grapples with rising lifestyle disorders, mental health challenges and the growing need for sustainable approaches to well-being, Yoga's enduring relevance has never been more evident. Rooted in India's ancient wisdom yet embraced across continents, Yoga today transcends geographical, cultural and ideological boundaries, serving as a powerful bridge between physical health, mental resilience and holistic living.

The International Day of Yoga (IDY), observed annually on June 21, has evolved into a global movement since its adoption by the United Nations in 2014. Over the years, India has not only led this movement but has also demonstrated how Yoga can become a catalyst for individual transformation and collective wellness.

This year's celebrations have already witnessed enthusiastic participation across the country. The week-long Yoga Ganga initiative, which began on June 13, has brought together communities along the sacred Ganga, from Gangotri through Rishikesh, Haridwar, Prayagraj, Varanasi and Patna, highlighting Yoga's role in connecting people through a shared commitment to health and wellness. Similarly, citizens across India have joined preparatory programmes, outreach campaigns and online Yoga sessions, including a landmark Guinness World Record attempt for the largest online Yoga participation under the Habuild-MDNIY 100 Days Free Online Yoga Sessions campaign.

The momentum now builds towards the main celebrations on June 21, when the national event will be held in Kolkata, with Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi leading the Common Yoga Protocol session. The concluding day of the three-day Yoga Mahotsav will feature large-scale Yoga demonstrations alongside cultural programmes that celebrate India's rich civilisational heritage. Across the country, Yoga events are being organised at 12 iconic heritage locations and 100 cultural sites in collaboration with the Ministry of Culture, extending the spirit of the observance far beyond a single venue.

The global footprint of Yoga is equally remarkable. More than 2,450 events are being organised through 211 Indian Missions abroad, including major celebrations at the United Nations in Geneva and New York. Together, these initiatives reflect the growing acceptance of Yoga as a universal practice for health, resilience and inner balance.

At the heart of this expanding movement is the Ministry of Ayush, which has played a pivotal role in strengthening Yoga's reach and relevance, both within India and internationally. As the nation prepares for the culmination of this year's celebrations, Union Minister of State (Independent Charge) for Ayush, Shri Prataprao Jadhav, in conversation with senior journalist Shri Sidharath Jha for Employment News, shares his perspectives on the significance of International Day of Yoga 2026, the vision behind the diverse initiatives undertaken this year, and the transformative role Yoga can play in building a healthier and more mindful society.

Excerpts from the interview:

Q. What is this year's official IDY theme, and how does it support national public-health priorities such as mental well-being, NCD prevention, and healthy ageing?

A. The Ministry of Ayush has announced "Yoga for Healthy Ageing" as the official theme for International Day of Yoga 2026. The theme aligns with global initiatives such as the United Nations Decade of Healthy Ageing (2021–2030) and supports national efforts toward preventive healthcare, healthy longevity and the creation of age-friendly communities.

The main objectives are to create awareness about the role of Yoga in healthy ageing; to encourage the adoption of Yoga-based lifestyle practices for healthy longevity and to enhance cognitive health and emotional resilience through Yoga practices. The theme highlights Yoga's role in promoting physical fitness, mental well-being, mobility, emotional resilience, and healthy longevity. It aligns closely with nation's public-health priorities by supporting prevention and management of Non-Communicable Diseases (NCDs), reducing stress and anxiety, promoting active ageing, and encouraging self-care and preventive healthcare practices.

Q. How does the Ministry of Ayush measure the health impact of Yoga initiatives, and what evidence demonstrates their contribution to improving public health outcomes?

A. The Ministry of Ayush assesses the impact of Yoga initiatives through a combination of participation data, surveys, research studies, and collaborations with academic, medical and healthcare institutions. Over the years, a growing body of scientific evidence has demonstrated the positive health outcomes associated with regular Yoga practice.

Studies conducted by institutions such as the Morarji Desai National Institute of Yoga (MDNIY), Central Council for Research in Yoga and Naturopathy (CCRYN), All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), and the National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (NIMHANS) have shown significant improvements in physical fitness, mental well-being, stress reduction, blood pressure regulation, and overall quality of life among participants. Research on the Common Yoga Protocol (CYP) has further established its benefits in enhancing flexibility, cardiorespiratory fitness, stress management, and general health.

Recent clinical studies have also highlighted Yoga's effectiveness as a complementary approach in the prevention and management of non-communicable diseases such as hypertension, diabetes, cardiovascular disorders, anxiety and depression. Evidence indicates that Yoga helps reduce stress, improve blood pressure and blood sugar control, support healthy ageing, and enhance mental resilience. Collectively, these findings provide strong scientific validation that Yoga is a safe, accessible and cost-effective tool for promoting preventive healthcare and improving public health outcomes.

Q. What is the nationally recognised certification framework for Yoga instructors, and how does the government ensure quality standards and accountability among Yoga training institutions and private Yoga academies?

A. The Yoga Certification Board (YCB), established under the Ministry of Ayush, Government of India, serves as the national and international certification body for Yoga professionals through its voluntary certification framework. The Board has developed a comprehensive system that certifies Yoga practitioners, instructors, teachers, evaluators and institutions based on standardized competency, quality and ethical benchmarks.

The certification framework is designed to ensure that Yoga professionals possess the requisite theoretical knowledge, practical skills and professional standards necessary for teaching and promoting Yoga safely and effectively. Multiple certification levels are available, enabling individuals to progress from entry-level instruction to advanced teaching and professional practice.

In addition to certifying individuals, the Ministry promotes quality assurance within the Yoga sector through certification and accreditation mechanisms that encourage adherence to recognized standards among Yoga training institutions, private academies and commercial Yoga establishments. These frameworks help strengthen professional credibility, support consumer confidence and promote the responsible dissemination of Yoga practices.

Aspiring Yoga trainers can access detailed information on certification schemes, eligibility requirements, syllabus, curriculum frameworks, examination procedures and assessment guidelines through the official website of the Yoga Certification Board. By establishing nationally and internationally recognised standards, the Board plays a crucial role in enhancing the quality of Yoga education and supporting the development of a skilled workforce aligned with India's vision of promoting Yoga as a holistic system of health and well-being.

Q. How many Yoga instructors, master trainers, and community volunteers does the Ministry plan to certify in 2026, and what targets have been set for workforce expansion?

A. The Ministry of Ayush continues to promote the development of a skilled Yoga workforce through the Yoga Certification Board (YCB). Under its ongoing volunteer Certification Scheme, around one lakh Yoga professionals and volunteers are proposed to be certified, strengthening the national and international pool of qualified Yoga personnel. Certification of Yoga Instructors, Master Trainers, and community-level Yoga volunteers is undertaken on a continuous basis in accordance with programme requirements and stakeholder demand.

Specific annual certification targets and workforce expansion goals for 2026 will be determined based on the number of candidates qualifying through examinations conducted by Yoga institutions and personnel certification bodies. The Ministry remains committed to expanding the pool of qualified Yoga professionals across the country to support the growing adoption of Yoga for health promotion, disease prevention, and overall well-being.

Q. Is there a public list of certified Yoga instructors and training institutions, and what systems are in place to ensure accountability and maintain quality standards?

A. The Yoga Certification Board (YCB), under the Ministry of Ayush, maintains a public database of certified Yoga professionals and accredited Yoga institutions. This enables stakeholders to verify the credentials of Yoga instructors and training providers.

To ensure accountability and quality standards, YCB follows a structured certification and accreditation framework based on defined eligibility criteria, standardised curricula, competency-based assessments, periodic audits, and code-of-conduct requirements. Certified professionals and accredited institutions are required to adhere to prescribed standards, thereby promoting transparency, credibility, and quality assurance in Yoga education and practice.

Q. What safeguards are in place to protect vulnerable groups-including senior citizens, pregnant women, and patients with chronic illnesses-from inappropriate Yoga instruction?

A. To ensure the safety of vulnerable groups, the Ministry of Ayush promotes age- and condition-specific Yoga practices through standardised protocols developed by Morarji Desai National Institute of Yoga. MDNIY has prepared separate Yoga protocol booklets with appropriate modifications, precautions, and contraindications for different populations, including:

- Yoga for Geriatric Population
- Yoga for Children
- Yoga for Women of Reproductive Age
- Yoga Protocol for Hypertension
- Yoga Protocol for Diabetes Mellitus
- Yoga Protocol for Cardiovascular Diseases
- Yoga Protocol for Mental Health and Stress Management

These evidence-based protocols guide certified Yoga Professionals in delivering safe and appropriate practices for senior citizens, pregnant women, children, and patients with chronic illnesses. Participants are also advised to practice under qualified instructors and seek medical consultation whenever necessary, thereby minimizing the risk of inappropriate instruction and ensuring safe participation.

Q. How is the Ministry of Ayush coordinating with the Ministries of Health, Education, and Skill Development to integrate Yoga into healthcare, education, and vocational training systems?

A. In healthcare, Yoga is being integrated into preventive, promotive, and rehabilitative health services through Ayush Health & Wellness Centres and various public-health initiatives.

In the education sector, Yoga has been incorporated into school curricula through the Central Board of Secondary Education and promoted in higher education through Yoga-based courses and curricula developed in collaboration with the University Grants Commission.

The Ministry also supports the Yoga 365 initiative, which encourages the year-round practice of Yoga beyond International Day of Yoga celebrations.

Yoga is also a key component of the Fit India Movement, encouraging physical fitness and healthy lifestyles among students and citizens.

Furthermore, vocational training and certification programmes for Yoga Professionals are being implemented through skill-development initiatives, creating a trained workforce to meet national and international demand for Yoga services.

Q. What economic impact has the Yoga sector generated in terms of employment, entrepreneurship, women's participation, and international demand for Indian-certified instructors?

A. The Yoga sector has contributed significantly to employment generation, entrepreneurship, wellness tourism, training services, research, and global outreach. It has created numerous opportunities for women, youth, and certified Yoga Professionals both within India and abroad.

Through initiatives such as the deployment of Yoga experts by the Indian Council for Cultural Relations (ICCR) to various countries, Indian-certified Yoga instructors are increasingly in demand internationally. In addition, ICCR offers scholarships to foreign students for pursuing Yoga education in Indian institutions, helping to build global capacity in Yoga and strengthening India's role as a global hub for Yoga education and training.

These initiatives have enhanced India's global leadership in Yoga while creating sustainable livelihood opportunities, promoting entrepreneurship, increasing women's participation, and fostering cultural diplomacy worldwide.

Q. What is the government's five-year roadmap for Yoga promotion, research, training, and global outreach, and what measurable milestones have been set for success?

A. The Government's roadmap for the next five years focuses on strengthening Yoga promotion, research, education, training,
