India's Pension Landscape Expanding Coverage, Ensuring Sustainability

India's pension landscape is rapidly evolving from a limited government-backed system to a diversified, contributory and technology-driven framework focused on financial security in old age. Driven by rising life expectancy and changing employment patterns, pension expansion has become a key policy priority. The growing success of the National Pension System (NPS) and Atal Pension Yojana (APY) reflects this shift, with NPS crossing 2.17 crore subscribers and APY reaching 8.96 crore enrolments as of March 31, 2026. Together, they have also emerged as major contributors to long-term asset creation, with NPS assets touching Rs. 15.95 lakh crore and APY assets Rs. 51.4 thousand crore. Backed by digital reforms and improved governance, India's pension ecosystem is becoming more inclusive, efficient and citizen-centric.

What is Pension?

A Pension provides a steady monthly income to people during their unproductive years. Declining earnings, rise of nuclear families, migration of earning members, rising living costs and longer lifespans weaken financial security. Pensions ensure a dignified and independent life.

Pension Architecture in India

India's pension architecture operates under distinct funding mechanisms, eligibility criteria and benefit structures.

- Defined benefit pension systems for eligible Government employees, which guarantee a fixed post-retirement income.
- Contributory pension arrangements where individuals or/and employers contribute to retirement savings.
- Statutory payroll-linked schemes for organised private-sector workers that mandate employer and employee contributions.
- Tax-funded social assistance pensions, which support elderly, widowed and vulnerable individuals with limited or no formal income sources.

From CCS to UPS: Evolution of Government Pension Schemes

Prior to January 1, 2004, Central Government employees were covered under a defined-benefit, DA Indexed pension system. It was governed by the Central Civil Services (Pension) Rules, 1972, commonly known as the OPS. Under this system, government employees were entitled to a guaranteed pension funded by the government after retirement. The pension was determined on the basis of the employee's last drawn salary and length of qualifying service. State Government employees were covered under their respective State Pension Rules, which were broadly modelled on these provisions.

From January 1, 2004, the Government of India discontinued OPS for new entrants and introduced the NPS. It is a defined-contribution framework in which both employees and the Government contribute. NPS is regulated and supervised by the Pension Fund Regulatory and Development Authority (PFRDA). The retirement benefits depend on the accumulated corpus and annuitisation rather than a guaranteed payout. The scheme encourages long-term retirement savings through a structured and portable pension system. It also supports fiscal sustainability by moving towards a contributory pension framework. Most State Governments subsequently adopted the NPS for new recruits, although a few continued with defined-benefit arrangements.

Did you Know?

Accumulated Pension Corpus refers to the monetary value of the pension investments. These are accumulated in the pension account of a subscriber under the NPS.

More recently, Unified Pension Scheme (UPS) came into effect from April 1, 2025. It is an option under the National Pension System (NPS) for eligible Central Government employees covered under benefits under UPS, an employee must have completed at least 10 years of qualifying service. In case of death of the employee after retirement, the legally wedded spouse is eligible for family pension/payout under UPS.

While both NPS and UPS have the objective of providing payout/pension, they have structural differences. For instance, under UPS, the Government contributes 10% (of Basic Pay + Dearness Allowance) along with an additional 8.5% to a pool corpus. Whereas NPS provides a 14% direct government contribution in the individual NPS account. Additionally, UPS offers an assured payout/pension subject to conditions, while NPS does not guarantee any assured payouts and depends upon market returns.

The UPS also ensures a minimum assured payout/pension of Rs. 10,000 per month for eligible employees with at least 10 years of service, which is not available under NPS. Dearness Relief is also provided in UPS but not in NPS. This is similar to Dearness Allowance (DA) given to serving employees. In case of death after retirement, the legally wedded spouse, at the time of retirement, is entitled to 60% of the payout/pension as family payout/pension. Whereas NPS benefits depend on the market returns and annuity selected.

employee and thereafter family payout/pension to legally wedded spouse; and

(b) Pension/payout amount that is linked to the employee's years of service and last drawn salary.

These provisions aim to provide greater income certainty and stability after retirement.

Overall, the system reflects a gradual shift from OPS to NPS, with UPS functioning as an optional alternative within this framework.

Defence Pensions: Separate Defined-Benefit Structure

Administered separately by the Ministry of Defence, defence pensions are financed through budgetary allocations from the Government. Reflecting the distinct service conditions and career structure of armed forces personnel, it is non-contributory in nature. It has unique features like One Rank One Pension (OROP) and Disability pension provisions. OROP (2015) ensures defence personnel retiring at the same rank and service length receive equal pension. This applies irrespective of their date of retirement.

Organised Private-Sector Pension Framework

Pension coverage for organised private-sector employees is built around statutory, payroll-linked arrangements rather than budget-funded entitlements. It operates primarily through two mechanisms namely the EPS and the corporate model of the NPS.

Employees' Pension Scheme (EPS)

The EPS is administered by the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) under the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act. It forms the statutory foundation of pension coverage for organised private-sector workers. Introduced in 1995, it applies to employees in establishments covered under the EPF law and is funded through contributions. A portion of the employer's EPF contribution is allocated to EPS and

NPS and choose this option under NPS. The scheme follows a contributory structure, with contributions from both employees and the Government of India. The UPS aims to provide assured and inflation-linked retirement income. It also addresses concerns related to longevity and income predictability. It is regulated by the PFRDA and is applicable to both serving and retired employees subject to specific conditions. To be eligible for

In addition, the UPS provides a lump sum amount at the time of retirement, calculated as 10% of monthly emoluments (Basic Pay + DA) for every completed six months of qualifying service. This is paid in addition to the pension benefits.

Key features of the UPS include:

(a) Provision of a minimum assured payout/pension after retirement to pension benefits are calculated based on pensionable salary and years of service. Unlike market-linked systems, EPS operates through pooled contributions. It provides superannuation, disability and family pension benefits to eligible members.

Corporate National Pension System

In addition to EPS, private employers may offer the corporate model of the NPS. Under this system both employer and employee contribute to individual pension accounts. This is regulated by the PFRDA.

Corporate NPS functions as a defined contribution system, where retirement benefits depend on the accumulated corpus rather than a fixed formula. While EPS remains the statutory base for eligible establishments, Corporate NPS serves as a supplementary or alternative retirement option. It offers greater portability and investment choices.

All Citizen Contributory Pension Mechanisms

To extend retirement savings beyond formal employment, voluntary contributory options are available. These include the NPS and the APY (Atal Pension Yojana) for individuals outside statutory payroll coverage.

NPS: All Citizen Model

The NPS all-citizen model extends pension access beyond formal employment. It allows voluntary enrolment within prescribed age limits, flexible contributions and choice of investment options. It operates through a two-tier account structure:

- Tier I, which is the primary retirement account with certain withdrawal restrictions and;
- Tier II, a voluntary savings account offering greater liquidity.

Subscribers can make flexible contributions subject to prescribed minimums. They can also choose investment options across asset classes, including government securities, corporate bonds and equities. It can be subscribed to by any Indian Citizen (resident/non-resident/overseas citizen). NPS is an Individual Pension Account and cannot be opened on behalf of a third person. The applicant should be legally competent to execute a contract as per the Indian Contract Act.

NPS Vatsalya: Pension Account for Minors

NPS Vatsalya (2024) is a contributory pension scheme, designed specifically for minors. Under this scheme, parents or legal guardians can open and operate a pension account for a minor. The minor remains the sole beneficiary and the subscriber of the account. Parental operation of account is made until the minor attains the age of majority. Thereafter, the account is seamlessly converted into a regular NPS account and operated by the subscriber.

The scheme promotes early retirement savings and long-term financial planning by enabling investments to accumulate over an extended time horizon.

Atal Pension Yojana (APY)

APY (2015) aims to expand pension coverage among workers in the unorganised sector. It covers workers not included under statutory social security schemes. It is a contributory scheme for low-income subscribers, with enrolment facilitated through banks and post offices.

Subscribers can choose a fixed monthly pension ranging from Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 5,000. The pension is payable from the age of 60 years. The required contribution amount is predetermined based on the selected pension level and the subscriber's age at entry.

Non-Contributory Social Pension Framework

Non-contributory social pensions provide basic income support through tax-funded transfers to elderly individuals in informal employment who lack retirement savings. Unlike employment-linked pensions, they focus on preventing destitution, thereby forming a vital social assistance layer within the pension system.

National Social Assistance Programme (NSAP)

At the Union level, NSAP is implemented across rural and urban areas to provide social assistance to eligible beneficiaries. NSAP provides financial assistance to the economically vulnerable individuals. States/UTs are encouraged to provide top-up of at least an equivalent amount to the assistance provided by the Central Government. This ensures that the beneficiaries avail decent level of assistance.

Did you Know?

As of August 2025, States/UTs have added top-up amounts ranging from Rs. 50 to Rs. 3800/month per beneficiary under NSAP. This results in an average monthly pension of around Rs. 1,000 in most of the States/UTs.

State-Level Social Pension Schemes

Alongside central assistance under NSAP, the State Governments also implement independent or supplementary social pension schemes. These schemes allow states to enhance pension benefits in line with their fiscal capacity and policy priorities. They also enable states to expand social pension coverage to a wider group of vulnerable beneficiaries. It includes the elderly, widows and persons with disabilities.

Examples of state-funded pensions:

- Madhu Babu Pension Yojana (Odisha)
- Aasara Pension Scheme (Telangana)
- Mukhyamantri Vridhjan Pension Yojana in (Bihar)

Policy Reforms Strengthening India's Pension Ecosystem

India's pension system has witnessed significant policy reforms aimed at improving regulation, expanding coverage and enhancing institutional efficiency.

Under the Pension Fund Regulatory and Development Authority (PFRDA), measures such as refinement of investment guidelines, stronger monitoring mechanisms and implementation of new frameworks like the Unified Pension Scheme (UPS) have strengthened the pension ecosystem.

In 2024, the Balanced Life Cycle Fund under the NPS Auto Choice option increased equity exposure up to 50 per cent until the age of 45, supporting higher long-term returns while gradually reducing risk with age.

To expand pension coverage among informal-sector workers, the government has strengthened enrolment under the Atal Pension Yojana (APY), simplified account opening through banks and post offices, and leveraged digital platforms to improve access to NPS accounts.

Further, the Code on Social Security, 2020 provides enabling provisions for extending pension-linked social security benefits to gig and platform workers, paving the way for broader inclusion in the future.

PM Concludes Gulf and Europe Tour with Energy, Technology and Trade Agenda

Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi's five nation tour, from 15 to 20 May 2026, combined high level summits, investment driven dialogues and partnerships, amplifying India's stature as a key global partner in energy, technology and green transition. In the UAE, PM Shri Modi's visit was framed around energy security and the India-Middle East-Europe Economic Corridor (IMEC). The two sides reaffirmed their commitment to fast track port, rail, and logistics infrastructure that will link India through the Gulf to Europe, positioning India as a central node in the corridor's East-West trade flows. Beyond energy and connectivity, the visit also saw fresh agreements in defence, space, and critical minerals, underlining the deepening of India-UAE ties as a "comprehensive strategic partnership" with growing defence procurements, joint ventures in renewables, and enhanced counter terrorism cooperation. In the Netherlands, Shri Modi highlighted India's emergence as a digital public infrastructure hub and discussed expanded collaboration in fintech, sustainable agriculture, and water technology. The visit reinforced India-Netherlands ties as a "Green and Digital Partnership," with fresh MoUs on climate resilient agriculture, hydrogen, and circular economy projects. During the India-Nordic Summit in Oslo, Shri Modi and Nordic leaders discussed AI, semiconductors, digital governance and defence innovation. The visit culminated in the India-Norway Business and Research Summit where Shri Modi announced the elevation of bilateral relationship to a "Green Strategic Partnership." In Sweden, a number of high profile business and technology agreements were inked in space, digital public infrastructure, tunnelling, health tech and advanced materials with the two countries moving towards a "Green and Digital Strategic Partnership" that includes joint R&D centres and technology transfer arrangements. In Italy, PM Shri Narendra Modi's bilateral talks focused on the India-Europe economic corridor, resilient supply chains, and defence and space cooperation. Italy was positioned as a key European gateway for India-EU trade, with discussions on easing regulatory barriers, boosting investment in manufacturing, and expanding Indo Italian joint ventures in defence, automotive, and green tech.

India, Cyprus Sign Key Agreements to Double Bilateral Investment Flow

India and Cyprus exchanged several agreements in areas including counter-terrorism, innovation, higher education, research and cultural cooperation during talks between Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi and President of Cyprus Mr. Nikos Christodoulides in New Delhi on May 22. India Expands Defence Cooperation with Vietnam and South Korea

Defence Minister Shri Rajnath Singh completed a four-day two-nation visit to Vietnam and South Korea from May 18-21, aimed at deepening strategic defence ties and expanding India's Indo-Pacific footprint. During his stopover in Vietnam on May 18-19, Shri Rajnath Singh held bilateral talks with Vietnam's Minister of National Defence, General Phan Van Giang, to review ongoing defence cooperation, joint exercises, training, and maritime security. The visit coincided with the 136th birth anniversary of former Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh, underscoring the symbolic weight of the India-Vietnam special-strategic partnership. Both sides discussed expanding India's defence exports and intensifying maritime collaboration in the broader South China Sea-adjacent region, including enhanced capacity-building and training support from India. From Hanoi, the Defence Minister moved to South Korea, where he met his counterpart Mr. Ahn Gyu-back to review the India-South Korea defence relationship and explore a "third phase" of cooperation. Discussions reportedly covered potential collaboration in anti-aircraft systems, drones, sensors, and ship-borne technologies under the "Make in India" framework. The two countries aim to work towards a more structured roadmap for joint production, technology transfer, and co-development of advanced platforms, building on the existing K9 Vajra howitzer project.

Chief Minister Shri Suwendu Adhikari said Bangladeshi nationals who entered India after December 31, 2014 and do not belong to the non-Muslim communities covered under the CAA would be treated as illegal infiltrators and deported through coordination between the Border Security Force and Border Guard Bangladesh. The Chief Minister clarified that Hindus, Sikhs, Buddhists, Jains, Parsis and Christians protected under the CAA, who entered India before the prescribed cut-off date, would not face deportation. The state government has also started handing over land to the BSF for border fencing along the India-Bangladesh border to strengthen border security.

ECONOMY

UN Projects India to Remain Fastest-Growing Major Economy

The United Nations has projected India's economic growth at 6.4 per cent this year, despite global uncertainty arising from the Iran conflict. The UN said strong consumer demand, public investment and growth in services exports continue to support the Indian economy. It added that India's diversified economy, strong foreign exchange reserves and energy capacity would help cushion the impact of rising global oil prices. The report identified India as the world's fastest-growing major economy, ahead of China, which is projected to grow at 4.6 per cent this year. The UN also lowered global growth projections to 2.5 per cent.

INTERNATIONAL

Ebola Outbreak: India Issues Travel Advisory, Cancels Key Events

India has issued a health advisory for travellers arriving from Ebola-affected countries, including the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Uganda and South Sudan, amid growing concerns over the outbreak in Africa. The World Health Organization has declared the situation a Public Health Emergency of International Concern, though it said the outbreak is not yet at pandemic level. WHO Chief Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus said over 600 suspected cases and 139 suspected deaths have been reported, mainly in DR Congo and Uganda. WHO also said it could take up to nine months to develop a vaccine for the Bundibugyo strain of Ebola currently spreading in the region. In response to the evolving health situation, India has postponed the Fourth India-Africa Forum Summit and the first International Big Cat Alliance Summit, which were scheduled to be held in New Delhi in the coming weeks. The government said the decision was taken after consultations with the African Union to ensure wider participation and public safety.
