India's Trade Agreements in Action

India's Free Trade Agreement (FTA) journey is now moving into a new phase. Earlier, the focus was largely on signing trade agreements with more countries. Now, the emphasis is on ensuring that Indian businesses actually use the benefits provided by these agreements. An FTA generally gives exporters bettermarket access, which means Indian goods and services can enter a partner country on easier terms, often with lower or zero customs duties.

Recent export trends suggest that businesses are increasingly taking advantage of these opportunities. Exports to several FTA partner countries are growing, and a wider variety of Indian products is reaching these markets. There has also been an increase in the issuance of preferential Certificates of Origin (CoOs). A CoO is a document that confirms that a product originates in India and meets the conditions of the particular trade agreement. It allows eligible Indian goods to claim the lower or zero customs duties offered under the FTA.

The government is also taking steps to make these benefits easier for exporters to access. Various initiatives are helping businesses understand tariff concessions, obtain the required documentation and explore new overseas markets. The larger objective is to convert the market access secured through FTAs into actual export growth, encourage more Indian businesses-including smaller enterprises-to participate in international trade, attract investment and generate employment. At the same time, India's trade policy seeks to protect important domestic interests, particularly sensitive sectors that could face greater competition from imports.

FTA Partners: Important Markets for Indian Exports

Within India's overall export performance, FTA partners constitute important markets for merchandise exports.

In FY 2025-26, India exported merchandise worth US$ 38,416.33 million to ASEAN and US$ 25,774.68 million to SAFTA. Among individual FTA markets, the UAE was the largest export destination, with Indian merchandise exports of US$ 37,359.11 million. This was followed by the United Kingdom at US$ 13,444.19 million, Singapore at US$ 11,863.66 million, Nepal at US$ 7,447.11 million and Australia at US$ 7,284.17 million. Malaysia, Japan, Republic of Korea, Sri Lanka, Thailand, Oman, Bhutan and Mauritius were among the other FTA markets receiving Indian merchandise exports during the year.

Making FTA Benefits Easier for Exporters

A trade agreement opens preferential market access, but its practical use depends on exporters claiming the available benefits. Under an FTA, exporters generally need to provide proof of origin for their goods. This establishes their eligibility for the preferential tariff treatment available under the agreement. Preferential access is being used across agreements at different stages of implementation. The UAE CEPA and Australia ECTA, operational since 2022, have generated a large volume of origin certification, indicating robust utilisation of tariff concessions.Early uptake is also visible under newer agreements. The EFTA TEPA generated 7,885 CoOs after becoming operational in October 2025, while 783 CoOs have been issued under the Oman CEPA following its implementation in June 2026.The increase in preferential CoO issuance is being supported by government measures designed to simplify procedures.

e-CoO 2.0: The e-CoO 2.0 system provides end-to-end digital issuance of preferential and non-preferential Certificates of Origin, bringing exporters, issuing agencies and chambers of commerce onto a common platform.

Aadhar-based Authentication: Aadhaar-based electronic signatures and QR-code verification support secure authentication and faster service delivery.

Simplified Rules: Documentation requirements have also been simplified under newer agreements.The India-EFTA TEPA and India-UK CETA allow exporters to establish origin through self-declaration. The UK agreement also permits importer's knowledge and waives origin documentation for consignments below £1,000, supporting e-commerce shipments and small businesses.The India-Australia ECTA allows multiple qualifying products to be included in a single Certificate of Origin.

Trade Connect: The Trade Connect platform complements these measures by helping exporters identify and use FTA benefits. Its Tariff Explorer provides access to tariff schedules across markets. Exporters, including MSMEs, can obtain trade information, seek guidance and raise CoO-related concerns, reducing the effort involved in navigating export procedures.

A Wider Range of Indian Products Reaching FTA Markets

The reach of an FTA is also reflected in the range of products entering partner markets. This product-level expansion is visible across several recent agreements.

- In the UAE, exported tariff lines increased from 7,546 in 2021-22 to 8,053 in 2025-26, an increase of 6.7%.
- For Australia, coverage increased from 5,396 tariff lines in 2020-21 to 5,668 in 2025-26, an increase of 5%.
- The increase was particularly notable in Mauritius, where tariff-line coverage rose from 3,593 to 4,345, an increase of 20.9%.
- In Oman, the number increased from 2,879 in May 2026 to 3,371 in June 2026, representing an increase of 17.08%.

Tariff Line: A specific product category listed in a country's customs tariff schedule, identified by an HS (Harmonized System) code.

Connecting Indian Goods to Global Market

These agreements expand market access across several labour-intensive sectors, including textiles, agriculture and processed food, leather and footwear, marine products, gems and jewellery, carpets and handicrafts. Wider opportunities in these sectors enable smaller producers and local enterprises to participate more actively in international trade. At the same time, calibrated tariff liberalisation and transition arrangements preserve policy space to safeguard farmers and sensitive domestic sectors.

New Opportunities for Indian Services

Alongside goods, India's recent FTAs have expanded opportunities for service providers and professionals. This is particularly significant given the sector's growing contribution to employment, exports and overall economic activity.

Under the India-New Zealand FTA, a dedicated pathway provides for up to 5,000 skilled Indians to stay for up to three years. The covered fields include IT, engineering, healthcare, education, construction, AYUSH, yoga, culinary arts and music. The agreement also includes commitments across 118 services sectors and MFN treatment across 139 sectors.

Most-Favoured-Nation (MFN) treatment: A principle of non-discrimination in which all trading partners of a country are treated equally.

Under the India-EU FTA, commitments span 144 services sub-sectors, including IT/ITeS, professional, business, education, financial, tourism and construction services. Other provisions include facilitating the movement of business visitors and intra-corporate transferees, entry and work rights for dependants, and a five-year framework for Social Security Agreements, student mobility and post-study work opportunities.

- Mobility provisions under the India-UK CETA cover professionals in IT, healthcare, finance and education. The associated Double Contribution Convention prevents dual social-security payments, with estimated savings exceeding Rs. 4,000 crores.
- Under the India-EFTA TEPA, Indian service providers receive enhanced access to 128 sub-sectors in Switzerland, 114 in Norway, 110 in Iceland and 107 in Liechtenstein. Opportunities span IT and business, professional, education, media and cultural services. The agreement also includes Mutual Recognition Agreements in nursing, chartered accountancy and architecture.
- The India-Oman CEPA provides for temporary entry and stay of intra-corporate transferees, contractual suppliers, business visitors and independent professionals.
- Under the India-Australia ECTA, Australia has made commitments across around 135 services sub-sectors, with MFN treatment in 120 sub-sectors.
- The India-UAE CEPA provides Indian service providers access to around 111 sub-sectors across 11 broad areas, while the India-Mauritius CECPA provides access to around 115 sub-sectors across 11 broad areas.

Taking India's FTA Journey Forward

India's recent FTAs are entering a phase of implementation. As businesses make greater use of the access secured under these agreements, their impact is expected to widen export participation, diversify trade and strengthen commercial relationships with partner markets.

At the same time, India is widening its future trade agenda. Around ten trade agreements are under discussion, including new negotiations with the Eurasian Economic Union, Peru, Chile, Israel, Canada and Maldives.

Existing agreements such as the India-Korea CEPA and India-Sri Lanka ETCA are also being upgraded.

The direction of India's FTA policy is therefore increasingly clear: secure wider market access and ensure that Indian businesses, products, services and professionals are able to make effective use of it.

Recap

- India's FTA strategy is shifting from signing more agreements to ensuring that Indian businesses actively use preferential market access and tariff benefits.
- Exporters generally need proof of origin-usually a preferential Certificate of Origin-to claim reduced or zero customs duties under an FTA.
- FTA partners are major export markets: in FY 2025–26, merchandise exports reached US$ 38.42 billion to ASEAN, US$ 25.77 billion to SAFTA and US$ 37.36 billion to the UAE.
- Preferential access is increasingly being used: the UAE CEPA and Australia ECTA have generated substantial origin certification, while newer agreements with EFTA and Oman are also seeing early uptake.
- Government initiatives-including e-CoO 2.0, Aadhaar-based authentication, QR verification, simplified documentation and Trade Connect-are making FTA benefits easier to access.
- Newer agreements offer flexible origin procedures, such as self-declaration under the EFTA and UK agreements, concessions for small UK-bound consignments and multi-product certificates under the Australia agreement.
- Indian exports are becoming more diverse across FTA markets, with tariff-line coverage rising by 6.7% in the UAE, 5% in Australia, 20.9% in Mauritius and 17.08% in Oman.
- FTAs are expanding opportunities for labour-intensive sectors-including textiles, agriculture, processed food, leather, marine products, jewellery, carpets and handicrafts-while safeguards protect sensitive domestic sectors.
- Services and professional mobility are gaining importance, with agreements covering skilled-worker pathways, social-security relief, mutual recognition, business mobility and access across numerous services sectors.
- India is deepening implementation while expanding its trade agenda: around ten agreements are under discussion, and existing arrangements with Korea and Sri Lanka are being upgraded.
